

Clifford A. Cultee

Chairman Clifford A. Cultee was first elected to the Lummi Indian Business Council in November 2009 for a three year term and is currently serving his first year as Tribal Chairman. Chairman Cultee is a lifelong commercial fisherman and dive harvester. Prior to being elected on Tribal Council, Chairman Cultee served as a Lummi Nation Natural Resources Commission Policy Representative from 2003 to 2009 where he worked on many significant issues including the North of Falcon process, State/Tribal sustainable harvest plans, Inter-Tribal co-management processes and the protection and preservation of natural resources of future generations.