

FUNDING FOR THE PEOPLE

State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs

The 2022 State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations bill provides $56.1 billion, which is $595 million above 2021. In addition, the legislation includes $6.8 billion in humanitarian, economic, and security assistance for Ukraine, the countries affected by the situation in Ukraine, and other assistance to vulnerable populations and communities, and $5 billion to enhance the global COVID response. This legislation:

- Invests in Global Health and the Prevention of Future Pandemics by including $9.83 billion to support the health of families and communities around the world, a $634 million increase over FY2021 enacted. Included is a substantial investment in global health security to prevent future pandemics through both bilateral and multilateral mechanisms. The legislation also includes an additional $5 billion to enhance the global COVID response.
- Provides $6.8 billion in humanitarian assistance to address the historic levels of global displacement and humanitarian need resulting from natural disasters, conflict, and the pandemic, and to rebuild the U.S. Refugee Admissions program.
- Recommends over $1.5 billion to address the Climate Crisis and other environmental issues.
- Supports women's health globally by preserving funding for bilateral family planning and reproductive health at $575 million and the U.S. contribution to the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA) at $32.5 million.
- Provides over $1.6 billion to promote a free and open Indo-Pacific and help counter the growing influence of the government of the People's Republic of China in developing countries.
- Increases resources to the Department of the Treasury in order to provide economic relief to vulnerable low-income countries recovering from the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic through both bilateral and multilateral programs.

Bill Summary:

State Department Operations and Related Agencies – The bill provides a total of $17.2 billion for the operational costs of the State Department and related agencies, as well as diplomatic efforts to enhance peace and stability around the globe.

Within this amount, the legislation provides $5.8 billion for embassy security, the same as the fiscal year 2021 enacted level after adjusting for reduced costs related to Afghanistan. These funds will address needs at more than 275 diplomatic facilities overseas, including facility upgrades and security personnel.

United States Agency for International Development (USAID) Operations – The bill provides a total of $1.97 billion for USAID and the USAID Office of Inspector General – an increase of $263 million above the fiscal year 2021 enacted level. The legislation increases diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility initiatives in addition to supporting increased foreign service and civil service personnel, including for global health security and climate programs.

Bilateral Economic and Global Health Assistance – The bill contains a total of $19.05 billion for bilateral economic assistance to foreign countries – an increase of $2.34 billion from the fiscal year 2021 enacted level. Within this amount, programs that support development assistance, global health, and humanitarian assistance are prioritized. In addition, the bill includes $5.95 billion to fight HIV/AIDS around the globe.

International Security Assistance – The bill provides a total of $8.9 billion for international security assistance. Funds are included for international narcotics control and law enforcement activities, antiterrorism programs, nonproliferation programs, peacekeeping operations, and other critical international security efforts. The bill also provides funding to fight terrorist financing networks and bolsters border and airport security.

In addition, the legislation provides security assistance to key allies and partners. The bill fully funds the $3.3 billion commitment to Israel’s security, and it maintains strong support for Foreign Military Financing Program (FMF) assistance for Egypt, Georgia and Jordan.

The legislation also provides $650 million in FMF funding under division N for Ukraine and Eastern European allies and security partners facing threats from Russia.

Multilateral Assistance – The bill provides $2.37 billion for assistance to foreign countries through international organizations and banks – an increase of $334 million above the fiscal year 2021 enacted level. The bill fully provides for our assessed Contributions to International Organizations and continues our contributions to international financial institutions such as the World Bank’s International Development Association as well as to other multilateral institutions, including the Global Environment Facility and the International Fund for Agricultural Development.

The bill supports increased partnership with multilateral institutions on providing additional COVID-19 assistance to combating the climate crisis. In continuation of supporting countries through the pandemic, the bill provides a new contribution of $102 million to the International Monetary Fund for the Poverty Reduction and Growth Trust to help low-income countries respond to the economic impacts from the COVID-19 pandemic. The bill provides a new contribution of $125 million to the Clean Technology Fund to combat the climate crisis and help countries scale up low carbon technologies. The bill also includes a $5 million contribution to the Global Agriculture and Food Security Program to advance the UN Sustainable Development Goals on eliminating poverty and hunger.

Export and Investment Assistance – The bill provides $891.5 million for the Export-Import Bank (EXIM), the United States International Development Finance Corporation (DFC), and the Trade and Development Agency (TDA). The bill provides $114 million for administrative expenses for EXIM, an increase of $4 million above the fiscal year 2021 enacted level, and provides funds to support EXIM’s China and Transformational Exports Program to help American exporters compete fairly against PRC-backed competition.
