LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS BILL, 2025

The Legislative Branch Appropriations Bill provides a total discretionary allocation of $7.125 billion, which is $375 million (5.6%) above the Fiscal Year 2024 enacted level and over $130 million below the Fiscal Year 2025 request.

The bill strikes a delicate balance, maintaining essential resources for Congressional oversight of the Executive Branch in a fiscally responsible manner.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Enables Congress to better serve the American people by:
 - Maintaining investments to ensure U.S. House of Representatives committees can execute vigorous oversight over the Biden Administration.
 - Ensuring adequate resources for Member offices, including funding for staffing and other office expenditures.
 - Providing necessary funding for agencies that provide research and support for Members, including the Congressional Budget Office, Library of Congress, and Government Accountability Office.
 - Increasing funding for recruiting and retaining sworn Capitol Police officers.
- Strengthens our national security by:
 - Prohibiting the purchase of telecommunications equipment from the People's Republic of China and other adversaries.
 - Barring the purchase of drones manufactured in the People's Republic of China or by a business affiliated with the People's Republic of China, except as allowed for national security purposes.
- Ensures fiscal responsibility by:
 - Requiring unspent amounts from Members' Representational Allowances (MRA) to be used for debt and deficit reduction.
 - Restricting incentive or award payments to contractors for work on contracts or programs behind schedule or over budget.
 - Prohibiting the use of funds for the maintenance or care of private vehicles.
- Supports American values and principles by:
 - Maintaining restrictions on the use of funds for computer networks that do not block pornography.
 - Eliminating the requirement for Members to use "low greenhouse gas emitting vehicles" for leased vehicles paid for with the MRA.
